Korean medicine and energy

Korean traditional medical doctors in Daejeon have strived to challenge the thought that their practice is not based on science. They have publicized the result of their treatment and proved the scientific efficacy of their practice worldwide at the Australasian Acupuncture and Chinese Medicine Annual Conference(AACMAC), the International Congress for Integrative Health & Medicine Conference held in Germany, etc.

Building autogenic strength

We remind patients of the importance of building autogenic strength of their bodies, i.e. strengthening their muscles, ligaments, bones, and nervous system.

Treatment of couples having problems with pregnancy

We proved that Korean traditional medicine is effective in cases of difficulty at getting pregnant, whose causes are not clear (Analysis of Aged Patients Having Difficulty in Getting Pregnant 2010 - 2014).

Cooperative treatment by Korean and western medicine

We work together with western medicine doctors to obtain more accurate results of medical treatment. We use western hi-tech equipment like X-ray, MRI, and CT also use traditional method like acupuncture, moxibustion, etc.

In-house research institute

Our in-house research institute is engage in R&D about new medicines and treatment methods and publicizes the results of its work worldwide by having its theses carried on international journals.
